

view this email online | forward this email to a friend

connect with us:

In This Issue

New GIS Manager Search >>

Map Lines Archive:

www.greeninfo.org/archive

GreenInfo Sites:

www.greeninfo.org

www.mapsportal.org

www.parkinfo.org

www.landtrustgis.org

www.calands.org

www.protectedlands.net

Got great tips for us to put in Map Lines? Send 'em.

follow us on facebook

follow us on twitter

In response to the survey results, we're going to move MapLines to an every-other month publication! So, this is a "bridge" issue - the full MapLines will return next month with more great stuff. But, we do have an important matter to engage you with in this edition:

Help Us Find The Next GreenInfo GIS Manager!

GreenInfo is looking for great candidates for manager of our GIS solutions team - the roughly half of GreenInfo staff that work on GIS and related projects (there's another team that works on interactive/web projects).

Tim Sinnott, the current team manager, is moving with his wife to the East Coast (Vermont area) and will be continuing his great work for GreenInfo from there. In fact, if people have ideas about great opportunities or partnerships in the Northeast, let Tim know - tim@greeninfo.org.

Back to the GIS Manager position: A full description of the position and the application process is here: <http://www.greeninfo.org/about.php?j=jobs>

In short, we are looking for an energetic person with great GIS skills, a diverse background, and four years or more project experience, including management and supervision who can manage our team of half a dozen talented GIS staff, develop projects with client groups, and conduct their own GIS projects as well. It's a terrific opportunity for doing creative and highly varied work in our San Francisco office.

Feel free to contact me with questions or any other thoughts - larry@greeninfo.org

Thanks for your help on this, and I hope you have a great Earth Day!

Cordially,

Larry Orman
GreenInfo Network

Happy mapping from the GreenInfo Team!

Larry Orman, Amanda Recinos, Tim Sinnott, Jennifer Strahan, Rhonda Friberg, Alex Barnish, John Kelly, Stephanie Ding, Maegan Leslie Torres, Zach Erbe and Aubrey Dugger

Map Lines is a publication of GreenInfo Network
564 Market Street, Ste. 510, San Francisco, CA 94104 | 415-979-0343 | gin@greeninfo.org

copyright © 2011 GreenInfo Network

